DAVID GEFKEN SCHOOL OF MEDICINE AT UCLA
LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA 90024-2935

Dear Friends,

The Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine is pleased to announce that Dr. Jonathan E. Zuckerman is the recipient of the 2015 Daljit S. and Elaine Sarkaria Fellowship. First established in the academic year of 2004/2005, the Fellowship is awarded annually to recognize an outstanding trainee committed to disease research and clinical innovation. Dr. Zuckerman earned his undergraduate degree from the Johns Hopkins University and his medical degree from UCLA. He completed his Ph.D. thesis work with Dr. Mark E. Davis at the California Institute of Technology, during which he developed and evaluated nanoparticle-based carriers for selective drug delivery to solid tumor tissue. His recent research projects have focused on evaluating nanoparticle-based drug carriers for selective kidney targeting and interrogations into the regenerative capacity of the adult human kidney. Dr. Zuckerman joined the Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine at UCLA in 2014 for residency training in anatomic pathology. Dr. Zuckerman plans to pursue subspecialty training in nephropathology and aspires to an academic career focused on translational nephropathology research and clinical service. Please join us in congratulating Dr. Jonathan Zuckerman on this prestigious award.

Sincerely,

Peggy Sullivan, M.D.
